

Policy Research Center for Tobacco and the Environment

Vision

A world where everybody can grow up, play, work, and enjoy life in indoor and outdoor environments free of toxic commercial tobacco product pollution.

Mission

To conduct community-driven tobacco policy research that leads to cleaner and healthier indoor and outdoor environments by eliminating the toxic legacy of commercial tobacco products.

Who we are

A team of scientists, community leaders, and policy strategists working to reduce the damage caused by commercial tobacco products in our communities.

What We Do

Collaborate with community members to identify tobacco-related issues

Conduct research with community members to inform policymakers

Train and mentor emerging researchers, community members, and organizations
